

ADULT'S PERSONAL FILE

For Section Leaders

Editor's note

Although in some parts of the British Isles Scout Counties are known as Areas or Islands – and in one case Bailiwick – for ease of reading this publication simply refers to County/Counties. In Scotland there is no direct equivalent to County or Area, and Scouting is organised into Districts and Regions, each with distinct responsibilities. Some County functions are the responsibility of Scottish Regions, while others lie with Scottish Districts. The focus of responsibility is outlined in Scottish Variations from POR.

The equivalent role to County Training Manager in Scotland is the Assistant Regional Commissioner (Adult Training). For ease of reading this document refers to County Training Manager, except where there is a practical difference between the two roles, in which case this is indicated.

The term Training Manager is used to refer to those in The Scout Association who are responsible for managing training provision, including: County Training Manager, Local Training Manager, Assistant Regional Commissioner (Adult Training) Scotland and Assistant District Commissioner (Adult Training) Scotland.

Again, for ease of reading, all adults taking part in the Training Scheme are referred to as learners.

A note on the order of modules within this document

Please note the deliberate order of the modules which are listed within this document.

The modules have been put into groups to assist learners and Training Advisers to identify and prioritise learning whilst still allowing flexibility based on individual learning needs. We note the importance of Delivering a Quality Programme (12A) and have therefore prioritised this module above others in the Training for All Appointments group.

The module numbers are indicated in brackets at the end of the title to help track the modules on Compass and match them to existing documents.

LETTER FROM THE CHIEF SCOUT

Thank you for volunteering your time to Scouting. You have joined the most successful youth movement the world has ever seen, with a rich history and a bright future.

Since Lord Baden-Powell founded the Scout Movement in 1907 it's gone from strength to strength, growing and developing into the global Movement we know today. Scouting remains as relevant to the young people of the 21st century as we have been to those of the past. As adults in Scouting, whatever our role, we all have the responsibility of supporting young people in their personal development, encouraging them to actively engage with their community and empowering them to make a positive contribution to society. This unique role we have in young people's lives is both a challenging and rewarding task.

To support you as an adult in Scouting, The Scout Association provides training that builds upon your existing skills, knowledge and experience. The training you will receive is intended to give you additional skills and knowledge to ensure that you can carry out your role to the best of your ability. The Scout Association also seeks to offer development opportunities for adults and training is just one means by which personal development needs can be met.

I wish you well with your training and hope that you enjoy being part of the Scout Movement.

PART 2: INTRODUCTION TO SECTION LEADER TRAINING

About this Guide

The aim of the Adult's Personal File is to introduce you to The Scout Association's Adult Training Scheme and to provide you with some tools and information to help you with your training.

This guide only refers to the compulsory training that is relevant to those taking on appointments as Section Leaders or Assistant Section Leaders. A full list of all of the modules within the Adult Training Scheme can be found in the Module Matrix, available at scouts.org.uk/training.

How does the scheme work?

To ensure that young people experience good quality Scouting, The Scout Association requires each adult in Scouting to demonstrate a range of knowledge, skills and attitudes that are relevant to your Scouting role.

The range of skills The Scout Association expects of people in different roles is described in a number of modules, learning units and skills courses which together make up the Adult Training Scheme. More information about the principles of The Scout Association's Adult Training Scheme can be found in the Adult Training Scheme at scouts.org.uk/training.

Learning and validation

There are two key elements to the Adult Training Scheme.

- Learning - This is when you have the opportunity to gain or improve the knowledge and skills that you need for your role.
- Validation - This is when your Training Adviser will check that you can apply what you have learnt to your role. Validation is essential for every module.

Training Advisers and ongoing support

Different Districts and Counties operate in different ways, but either before you begin your Getting Started training or soon after you begin, you will meet with a Training Adviser who will explain the scheme fully.

A Training Adviser's role is to support you through your training. They will help you identify which of the modules you need to complete, and then decide with you whether you need to complete any training for them. From then on you will receive ongoing support from one or more Training Advisers, who will review your progress and ensure that you can put the learning from each module into practice.

The stages of Adult Training

Adult training comprises three stages:

- 1 Getting Started
- 2 The Wood Badge – this is broken down into:
 - Training for All Appointments – six training modules delivered through a variety of learning methods
 - Section Leader Training – eight training modules delivered through a variety of learning methods
- 3 Ongoing learning

Getting Started

Getting Started is made up of three modules, which need to be completed before you can be fully appointed. Getting Started needs to be completed within five months of receiving your provisional appointment and is part of the appointments process for your role. You will need to complete three modules as part of Getting Started:

- Personal Learning Plan (02)
- Essential Information (01)
- Tools for the Role (Section Leaders) (03)

Although there are suggestions about which modules may be best to complete first, these modules can be completed in any order, and are aimed at introducing you to your new role and giving you the basic information and skills needed to get started.

Once you have completed Getting Started you may wear the Gilwell woggle. Non-uniformed adults may wear the Getting Started pin. Both of these can be purchased from Scout Shops.

If for some reason you are unable to complete Getting Started within the five month timescale, your line manager will review the situation with you. Your District or County Commissioner, together with the Appointments Advisory Committee, will then decide whether or not to extend your provisional appointment for another five months. A provisional appointment can only be extended once.

Personal Learning Plan (02)

This module consists of creating a plan to meet the training requirements of your role, taking your existing knowledge and skills into account.

Although the parts of Getting Started can be completed in any order, it is recommended that you complete the Personal Learning Plan as the first step, particularly if you are changing roles. This will mean that you will have a clear idea of the process from the outset, and you will be able to get advice and guidance from a Training Adviser at an early stage on how to go about completing your training.

Essential Information (01)

This is the basic information that all adults in Scouting need to know. It briefly covers the Fundamentals of Scouting, the key policies of The Scout Association and the support available to adults in Scouting. It is important that you receive this training as early as possible. A variety of delivery methods, including distance learning methods, are available.

Information on some of these topics can be found on the website at scouts.org.uk/about-us/key-policies.

Tools for the Role (Section Leaders) (03)

This contains some basic information about the role and practical help for working within a section. The module covers the key features of the section and how to run suitable games and activities and how to promote positive behaviour.

The Wood Badge

Once you have completed Getting Started you will move on to completing all of the training relevant to your role. As a Section Leader or Assistant Section Leader you will need to complete a Wood Badge.

The Wood Badge is the internationally recognised Scouting training insignia awarded to adults by Headquarters on completion of the relevant training. The Wood Badge consists of two wooden beads threaded onto a leather thong, which is worn with Scout uniform. You are required to complete your Wood Badge within three years from your full appointment.

Ongoing learning

Every adult who holds an appointment for which a Wood Badge is required, must participate in a minimum of five hours ongoing learning each year, calculated over the length of the appointment. For example, if you go on a week-long residential course, this could be counted as your ongoing learning for the whole period of the appointment. This is to ensure you continue to acquire new skills and keep up to date with new trends and policies.

You will be required to agree what ongoing learning you are going to do in the first year after achieving your Wood Badge with your Training Adviser before you can be awarded your Wood Badge. It then becomes your line manager's responsibility to monitor and agree your ongoing learning.

Ongoing learning can be any number of things. In essence any training, learning or development that you complete and can then use in your Scouting role is appropriate to count as ongoing learning. For example:

- the maintenance of a current adult first aid qualification/first response certificate
- a Beaver Scout Leader spending time with another leader learning how to use Programmes Online, then using it to plan their programme
- any of the supplementary modules, for example Facilitating (28) or Presenting (29) if they are not part of the minimum training requirements for your role

Your Training Adviser will be able to give you more support and advice on courses, qualifications and other Scouting activities that may count as ongoing learning.

Mandatory ongoing learning

Although the ongoing learning hours you are required to complete each year can be any number of things, there are also some specific ongoing learning requirements which all Section Leaders and Assistant Section Leaders must complete.

Ongoing Safeguarding Training

Members are required to complete the approved Scouting specific safeguarding training at least every five years, to be monitored by their line manager at the point of appointment review.

Learners may complete The Scout Association Safeguarding Awareness Training module to meet this requirement. This can be completed by either attending a locally run course which meets the specified objectives and is delivered by approved trainers, or by completing the Safeguarding e-learning for this module. The e-learning, along with further information, can be found at scouts.org.uk/ongoinglearning.

Ongoing Safety Training

Members are required to complete Scouting specific safety training at least every five years, to be monitored at the point of appointment review by their line manager.

There is an Ongoing Safety Training module which learners may complete to meet this requirement. This can be completed by either attending a locally run course which meets the specified objectives; or by completing the approved Safety e-learning for this module. The e-learning, along with further information, can be found at members.scouts.org.uk/ongoingsafety

First Aid Training

All adults in Scouting holding a Section Leader or Assistant Section Leader appointment are also required to hold a current First Aid certificate. While everyone is encouraged to maintain their qualification at all times, the First Aid certificate must be valid at the issue of the Wood Badge and for appointment renewal. This should be monitored by their line manager at the point of appointment review, at least every five years.

More information on the First Aid requirements can be found on the First Aid pages on scouts.org.uk

External recognition

It is possible for the training that you do through The Scout Association to be recognised by an external organisation.

More information on all of these options, including the process for registration and costs, is available from the Adult Support Team at adult.support@scouts.org.uk or by calling 0345 300 1818.

Gateway Qualifications

There are options available for those completing training for section leader roles to work towards a Gateway Qualification Certificate at the same time as completing your Wood Badge. The Gateway Qualification Certificate allows you to demonstrate to someone outside Scouting (such as an employer) the skills and knowledge that you have gained.

If you think this is something you might like to do, you should discuss it with a Training Adviser who will be able to provide you with more information. Each Certificate is made up of a number of units which correspond to one or more of the Adult Training Scheme's modules.

More information about the Certificate including what it covers, the work required to achieve it, how it is assessed and costs involved can be found in the Members Resources Area of scouts.org.uk or by emailing adult.support@scouts.org.uk.

Membership of the Institute of Leadership and Management (ILM)

The Institute of Leadership and Management is a professional body for managers. They partner with individuals and employers across the world to improve leadership and management performance through learning and development. When you have gained your Wood Badge as a Section Leader, manager or supporter you are eligible to join the ILM at the grade of Associate Member, or Member if you have other management qualifications or experience (e.g. three years further experience in your Scouting role). As an Associate Member you may use the letters AMInstLM after your name.

Benefits include professional recognition, lifestyle discounts, Harvard Business School resources, access to ILM's regional evening events, a free legal helpline, and Edge – the magazine that you will receive nine times a year.

PART 3: CREATING YOUR PERSONAL LEARNING PLAN

This guide is designed to help you understand the training that you are required to complete for your role. You will use this guide to help create your Personal Learning Plan.

Agreeing a Personal Learning Plan

Once you have agreed your role description with your line manager, you need to create a plan for your own training, called a Personal Learning Plan (PLP). This should be created and agreed in partnership with your Training Adviser. If you haven't agreed a role description yet, speak with your line manager to agree one. Example role descriptions can be found scouts.org.uk and are available to order from Scout Shops. Scotland-specific role descriptions can be found at scouts-scotland.org.uk.

There are five steps to creating a Personal Learning Plan:

1. Identify the training that is relevant to your role
2. Assess what learning you will need to complete
3. Decide the validation methods that will be used to demonstrate your ability to put learning into practice in your role and the timeframe in which you expect to complete each criteria
4. Meet and agree your plan with your Training Adviser
5. Complete and review

Step 1: Identifying the training that is relevant to your role

- Use the minimum training requirements section below and the Module Matrix to identify which modules you are required to complete for your role.
- Use your role description to identify any extra modules that you feel are relevant to your role, or that you would find interesting to complete
- If you are changing roles from another role in Scouting, you can use the Change of Role section to identify the modules that may require revalidating. If you have completed your training under the current Adult Training Scheme, it may not be necessary to revalidate certain modules if you have completed them previously.

The Module Matrix

The Module Matrix provides a summary of the modules that make up the Adult Training Scheme. The Module Matrix is colour coded to give you an indication of the types of roles likely to benefit from the training. The matrix is only a summary though and you should refer to the Minimum Training Requirements section that follows for more information on the training requirements for specific roles.

MODULE MATRIX

This is a summary of The Scout Association's Adult Training Scheme and ongoing learning. For further information on the training requirements for specific roles please refer to The Scout Association's Adult Training Scheme.

Additional Modules

You are encouraged to look at other modules that may be relevant to your role but do not make up the minimum requirements for your appointment. These modules may be completed in addition to the minimum requirements, or as ongoing learning. For example Skills for Residential Experiences (38) may be relevant to Section Leaders.

The content of these modules can be found online in the Supplementary Module Pages or at scouts.org.uk/training

Change of Role

It is not unusual for an adult to change roles in Scouting. To ensure you have the correct skills and knowledge, you may need to revalidate certain training modules. If you have completed your training under the current Adult Training Scheme, it may not be necessary for you to revalidate certain modules because you have completed them previously.

Each module on the following pages has a change of role box. A tick✓ means that you will need to validate the module again and a cross ✕ means that you do not.

In some cases, the need to revalidate will depend on which role you are moving from and to. Roles are split into three categories:

- Section Leader (anyone working in a section).
- Manager (Group Scout Leader, District Commissioner, County Commissioner, County Training Manager, District Explorer Scout Commissioner etc)
- Supporter (Assistant District/County Commissioner)

The table below shows which training will require revalidation when a volunteer changes roles within Scouting.

Step 2: Assessing your learning

Check your knowledge

It is likely that you already have skills and knowledge gained outside of Scouting that can be used to validate some of your Scout training. This means that for some modules, you may not need to do any extra learning, or may only have learning to do for certain topics.

The Check Your Knowledge chart included in the module pages below will help you to look at what you already know and, with the help of your Training Adviser, decide what learning you need to complete for each module. The chart has been designed to reflect the learning objectives of each module. Your Training Adviser will use this, along with the discussions you have at your initial meeting, to create your Personal Learning Plan (PLP) and agree it with you.

Recognising prior learning

The Scout Association's Adult Training Scheme recognises prior learning. You may already have skills and knowledge gained through your education, employment, life experiences or other voluntary roles, which you can apply to your new role in Scouting. If you already have the knowledge, skills and abilities covered by a module you will not be required to complete the learning for the module. If you have some of the skills, or are unsure about some aspects, you may be able to complete learning for just those bits that you need.

You do, however, still need to demonstrate that you can use these skills in your Scouting role. This is shown through the process of validation. As part of the planning process for your training you will agree with a Training Adviser how you will validate each module.

The Young Leaders' Scheme

As part of its Youth Programme, The Scout Association operates a Young Leaders' Scheme. The scheme gives young people in the Explorer Scout Section (aged 14-18) the opportunity to act in a leadership role in one of the three sections for younger members. As part of this scheme, Explorer Scouts are required to do some training to support them in their role.

If you have previously been a Young Leader, you may have done training which covered subjects such as the High Quality Balanced Programme, Child Protection, First Aid, Practical Skills, Challenging Behaviour and Leadership Skills, giving you the skills and knowledge that you needed to act as part of the leadership team.

Young Leader training does not directly translate to the Adult Training Scheme, and so cannot be used to validate the modules of the scheme. However Young Leader Training provides a good deal of prior learning for the modules of the Adult Training Scheme. More information and guidance on this can be found in the factsheet FS330094: Prior Learning Gained in the Young Leaders Scheme. Your Training Adviser should discuss and recognise this prior learning when creating your Personal Learning Plan.

Choosing your learning methods

The Adult Training Scheme offers a number of learning methods for each module, specified on the module page below. You may be able to go on a training course, use e-learning, workbooks, videos, read a book or get another adult in Scouting to help you or teach you a skill. You should choose the method that is most suitable for you through a discussion with your Training Adviser.

Step 3: Agreeing the validation methods

Validation is the process where you show that you can put your knowledge and skills about the topics covered in a module into practice in your role in Scouting. You will need to validate all of the modules required for your role, regardless of whether you have gained skills through learning or through previous experience.

There are a number of different validation methods for each module; you will work with your Training Adviser to decide which is most appropriate for you. Validation should reflect the activities of your normal Scouting role and should be backed up by evidence. The different aspects of your role, for example running meetings, planning programmes, leading and managing others, will show your abilities and knowledge. Validation is essential for every module in the Adult Training Scheme.

Validation methods

There are a number of methods of validation, for example:

- a visit from your Training Adviser to observe you carrying out an activity
- a written or verbal statement to your Training Adviser from an observer
- paperwork created for the role such as programme plans, letters to parents, instructions for activities and risk assessments
- notes from activities or meetings
- obtaining a qualification, such as a first aid certificate or nights away permit
- completing a questionnaire
- discussion with your Training Adviser
- photos of a validation activity
- videos of a validation activity
- presentations to adults or young people in Scouting.

These are just some examples of validation methods. There are other methods, or variations of these that you might want to use. These can be agreed between you and your Training Adviser.

Validation evidence

In order to validate each module you will need to produce evidence that shows that you have completed the agreed validation criteria. Included in the Adult's Personal File (APF) for each module are examples of evidence you might wish to use in completing your validation. This list is not exhaustive, and should be used to generate ideas and agree how validation will be carried out with your Training Adviser.

Once validation criteria and evidence have been agreed, you will need to complete the validation criteria and gather the appropriate evidence. When you next meet with your Training Adviser you will need to reflect on this evidence with them so that the module can be validated and completed.

Step 4: Meeting and agreeing your plan with a Training Adviser

For this stage you will need to meet with your Training Adviser to finalise and agree your plan. This is also your opportunity to discuss any questions you have from steps one and two. Using your draft Personal Learning Plan, agree with your Training Adviser the modules, courses and independent learning that are relevant to your role.

At the first meeting you may not be able to agree the learning method, validation, and timescale for every aspect of your training. It is suggested that you plan between six and twelve months ahead, taking into account any opportunities for validation or learning that may arise in that period.

The Personal Learning Plan is your formal record of completing your training and so it will need to be kept safely. Any Training Advisers that are supporting you will also need a copy for their records. Your Personal Learning Plan is recorded in the membership database called Compass, where it is stored and updated as you work through your training. The Personal Learning Plan can be completed by your Training Adviser directly on to Compass when you meet to agree your plan.

Step 5: Complete and Review

As you work through your training, make sure that each area you validate is signed off on your Personal Learning Plan by the person who validates it. At least once every six months, it is recommended that you review your progress with your Training Adviser and agree a plan for the next six months.

Once you have validated all the areas of your Personal Learning Plan for your Wood Badge you will need to agree your plan for Ongoing Learning (including mandatory ongoing learning) with your line manager. Every adult who holds an appointment for which a Wood Badge is required must participate in a minimum of five hours ongoing learning each year. This is to ensure they continue to acquire new skills and keep up to date with new trends and policies. Ongoing learning must be at least five hours per year, calculated over the length of the appointment.

Once you have completed your Personal Learning Plan and agreed your plan for Ongoing Learning you will be eligible to be recommended to be awarded the Wood Badge.

PART 4: MODULE PAGES

The module pages set out for each module:

- the aim and topics for each module
- explain the content of the module
- some questions to help you to check your knowledge and review it with your Training Adviser
- state the learning methods for each module
- provide validation criteria for each module and suggest potential evidence for validation.

Check Your Knowledge

These questions are designed to help you establish what you already know and the learning you still have to complete for this module. You should work with your Training Adviser to identify any learning you have left to complete and how you can complete this. These questions will explore your knowledge on the topics covered; you will need to demonstrate practical experience to meet the requirements of the validation criteria below.

Validation Criteria

The validation criteria for each module are shown in the following pages. For some modules, the specified criteria must be completed by all roles; in some other cases however, there are validation criteria that apply to all roles and other that are only relevant to certain roles. If you are not sure about what criteria apply to your role, please discuss this with your Training Adviser. In some instances, it will also depend on the learner's agreed role description whether or not certain criteria apply.

Change of Role

The module pages below state when revalidation of a module is required when a learner changes role within Scouting.
